"OLEO" MEASURE NEBRASKA LAW

PROHIBITS USE OF IMITATION BUTTER IN ALL STATE INSTITUTIONS

COTTON OIL IS BARRED

(By Associated Press).
LINCOLN, Neb., Mar. 11.—The oleomargarine bill, prohibiting the use of imitation butter in state institutions passed the Nebraska Senate today. The measure passed the Senate only after a bitter fight waged by members who declared that it was discriminatory against other states in that it prohibits only oleomargarine which contains cotton seed oil.

MAYOR TYLER HASWELL WELL PLEASED WITH MEET OF ROTARY INTERNATIONAL

Mayor Tyler Haswell returned on the early morning train from Galveston where he has been since Saturday. His wife, who accompanied him to Houston, will remain there for a visit of a day or so with her sister, Mrs. J. R. Lay. Mr. Haswell returns buoyed up by the wonderful inspiration received at the convention of the thirteenth district of Rotary International at Galveston on Monday and Tuesday. He said that the convention was a splendid one and he heard speakers who are the peers of American orators and who pepped up everyone who listened to them. He added that he found Rotary grew more into the hearts of the members as they learned more about it, put more into it and practiced more the motto of "service." In conclusion Mr. Haswell told of meeting "Old Gabe" Cazell who was one of the song leaders and one of those who put life into the convention.

CITY WATER OF BRYAN PROVES SATISFACTORY STATE BOARD HEALTH

"We are pleased to advise you that the two specimens of water collected by Mr. Ramsey from your city well at power plant and hydrant from the doctor's office, on March 5th, indicates that the supply was of satisfactory sanitary quality at the time of collection of specimens." This is the text of a letter received today by City Manager J. Bryan Miller from H. O. Sappington, M. D., State Health Officer, with regard to samples of the city water of Bryan submitted to the state office to comply with regulations necessary for Bryan to secure a class "A" rating. It is understood that if the city follows out this plan of sending in specimens each month, the class "A" rating is assured and the City Manager states that such method is to be regularly followed.

ROSES IN BRYAN ATTRACT TOURISTS

"In passing through your fine little city, our party noticed the beautiful ramblers roses in all colors on nearly every home, large and small, and ever since I have wanted to write and ask if you can furnish me with the information that would enable me to get some of the cuttings of them. I prefer the coral color and red. If there is anyone in your community that would sell me a half-dozen I would like for them to ship them to me C. O. D. and as soon as possible."

The above is the text of a letter addressed to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce from Mrs. Stanley J. Gillette of Bay City, Texas. Yet there are people who will say that the appearance of a town doesn't make an impression on strangers passing through. Here is tangible evidence that it does and it should be a reminder to Bryan home owners that they should at all times keep their yards and lawns attractive.

WARREN NOMINATION IS NOT CONFIRMED--COOLIDGE INFORMED

(By Associated Press).
WASHINGTON, Mar. 11.—President Calvin Coolidge was advised today by Republican leaders in the Senate not to re-submit the nomination of Charles Warren of Michigan to be attorney general because it could not be confirmed.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS IS TRANSACTED LIONS MEETING ON TUESDAY

In the absence of any set program of the regular Tuesday noon luncheon of the Bryan Lions Club, a number of small, yet important, matters were taken up, discussed and acted upon. It was announced by President C. A. Searcy that Lion President Harry Newman of the Toronto Club would be in Houston on Thursday, after spending today at San Antonio, and that Bryan Lions who wished to hear him might plan the trip to Houston. President Searcy stated that a new song book for Lions was being edited and would be ready for distribution in a short time.

Lion J. Bryan Miller gave a talk on rural community work, as a result of which Lions J. Coulter Smith, W. E. Neeley and J. M. Ferguson were appointed to visit the Reliance community club meeting on next Saturday night. Following a talk on the proposed firemen's convention for 1926 in Bryan, President Searcy appointed Lions Jesse Hensarling and M. F. Vitopol to work as a committee in conjunction with other members appointed from the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club.

RESIDENT OF BRAZOS TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO BACK ON A VISIT

E. N. Robinson and wife of Athens arrived at College Station on Saturday afternoon to visit his son, Jed, who is a freshman at the A. and M. College. Mr. Robinson, among other things, said that the boy had not mentioned the subject of "hazing" to him and that the only accounts of hazing at A. and M. that he had heard or seen had been in the newspapers. He was very much surprised and pleased to see the wonderful improvements that had been made at the College since he had last seen it. Mr. Robinson lived in Bryan just twenty-five years ago, at that time working for Tyler Haswell in "Haswell's Book Store". He said that he went direct to Athens upon leaving here and is now proprietor of the drug store in the city that bears his name. He has another drug store at Chandler, too.

With regard to the City of Bryan, he stated that the improvements made since he lived here, seem marvelous. The fine paved Main street is in marked contrast to the deep sand of his day. The front of the buildings have all been remodeled and modernized, he added, and the other changes in appearance and progress, are too numerous to state. When I was in Bryan, said Mr. Robinson, this city received 41,000 bales of cotton, unloaded from wagons in this city; we received trade from all surrounding countries, they not having railroads at that time; and the farmers from a radius of 100 miles used Bryan for a trading point.

MISS CRUTE PLEASED LARGE CROWD AT A REGITAL JEFFERSON

Under the auspices of the Wednesday Music Club, our delightful young friend, Miss Miriam Crute, of Bryan, Texas, was presented in her first concert, at the school auditorium, Thursday evening, February 19. Jeffersonians are pleased and honored to be the recipients of this rare musical treat and tribute.

When Miriam left Jefferson in 1916, she was a tiny maiden still in flowing golden curls. Now she returns to us an accomplished young lady with a charming personality and unusual soprano voice.

As she stood before her large and appreciative audience, a dainty creation of blue and white, we did not expect to find such volume and broad range of voice in one so young and so petite. But it is hers in all its beauty and sweetness. The clear, silvery notes of each lovely number were received with pleasure and applause. Miriam is a student of one of our foremost teachers, Prof. Gabe Cazelle, to whom much credit is due for her splendid success and who predicts a bright future for our talented young friend, and we sincerely hope she may soon reach her goal. Miss Haynes, the accompanist for this delightful occasion is a pianist of unusual tonal quality and interpretation. She pleased her audience with several classical numbers well rendered. These fair young artists will meet with a cordial welcome wherever they may go.—Jefferson Jimplicute.

BRYAN COTTON MARKET

BIG DROP IN PRICE WHEAT

LIVERPOOL IS OVER-SUPPLIED WITH LARGE SHIPMENTS RECENTLY RECEIVED

DEMAND IS EXCEEDED

(By Associated Press).
CHICAGO, Mar. 11.—An extreme break of six cents per bushel in the wheat market today took place during the first half of the Board of Trade session. Heavy selling forced May delivery down to $1.81 3-4 against $1.87 7-8 at yesterday's finish. Huge arrivals of wheat at Liverpool in excess of immediate demand was the chief depressing factor.

FARMER OF MILLICAN INJURED IN SMASHUP WHEN HIT BY AUTO

C. D. Davis of Millican, a farmer, was in the city on Tuesday afternoon and filed a complaint against a party of tourists in a car from Galveston, Texas, occupants unknown. He stated that he was driving in to Bryan in a lumber wagon and was on College avenue when he was hit by a Ford touring car, smashing two wheels on his wagon and breaking the tongue. He also received a wrenched shoulder as a personal injury. The county tax collector at Galveston will be gotten in touch with at once by County Attorney Oak McKenzie, to learn the name of the owner of the car. The Ford did not stop after the incident, which makes it an aggravated assault with a car.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS BRYAN-COLLEGE TRACTION CO. HELD

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bryan-College Traction Company was held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night and a large majority of stock was represented. President Edge called for the report from the treasurer, J. M. Gordon, which was read and discussed by the stockholders at length. Mr. Edge spoke on the earnings of the road and regretted that the Board of Directors were not in a position at this time to declare a dividend.

It was pointed out that the physical condition of the road was in an excellent condition and the service rendered during the past eighteen months had in every way been satisfactory. The one problem that seriously confronts the management of the Bryan-College Traction Company is the use of the automobile. Many car owners who live at both Bryan and College and who are stockholders in the Traction Company are doing the Traction Company a great injustice when they pick up the passengers who rightly belong to the Traction Company. Practically every stockholder present was of the opinion that unless this practice was curtailed that it would be difficult for the road to continue operating and all pledged their support to do everything in their power to bring about this change. In the majority of cases it is simply thoughtlessness

SEALING STEAMER IS SINKING IN ICE JAM--CREW IS RESCUED

(By Associated Press).
SAINT JOHN'S, New Foundland, Mar. 11.—The sealing steamer "Stella Maris," one of a fleet which sailed from here Saturday for the annual seal hunt, sent a radio message today that she had been crushed in the ice and was sinking. MRS. O. W. GOOLSBEE WINS BED-ROOM SUITE GIVEN AWAY BY PARKS

No. 10939, held by Mrs. O. W. Goolsbee, won the $350 bed room suite given away by the E. F. Parks Furniture Company, when the numbers were drawn on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. There were over 12,000 coupons or tickets issued during the time that the contest has been on. Tickets were issued to customers who purchased goods during a specified time. The tickets were drawn from a large tin box by a small girl. Twenty tickets were first drawn and these placed in a small box and thoroughly shaken up. The first number drawn from the 20 was the winning ticket of Mrs. Goolsbee's, No. 10939. At the time of the drawing the store was jammed and packed with people interested in the outcome. O. J. Parks of the E. F. Parks Co., made a short talk, explaining that the contest was put on and the suite given away free as they felt that the public had given them splendid support to the end that the store had enjoyed great expansion and the people were entitled to share in the success of the store to which their patronage had been extended.

Mrs. Floy Dansby is leaving today for Ennis to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gage Aldredge and to attend the social functions given in honor of their daughter, Leslene, whose marriage on the 28th, ult., to Mr. Fred Hodges of that city has been announced.

(By Associated Press).
SANGER, March 11.—Failing in their effort to open the vault of the Guaranty State Bank here today, robbers carried the night-watchman, Pack Hampton, into the woods and tied him to a tree. He had been captured before the robbery attempt and held a prisoner in the bank until removed to nearby timber. The cries of Hampton attracted passing motorists about daybreak. He was released. The robbers included four men and a woman, Hampton said. The robbers failed to open the vault when their acetylene torch broke. Sanger is in Denton County.

GOLDEN RULE POULTRY FARM LEADS PENS IN EGG-LAYING CONTEST

Under the name and motto of the "Golden Rule" Poultry Farm, and under the able and efficient management of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Boriskie of Shiloh community, the Barred Plymouth Rocks and Single Comb White Leghorns of this farm are making a name for themselves in the State and nation through egg-laying qualities. And along with V. Boriskie, bring credit and fame to Brazos county and her poultry production, is F. W. Kazmeier who operates the farm between Bryan and College. Between the two farms of this county, Brazos county is getting on the map in the poultry industry. Leading all contest pens to date is that of V. J. Boriskie, when, for the first time this year in the Eighth Texas National Egg-Laying Contest a pen of Barred Rocks displaces a pen of White Leghorns, for the leading contest pen to date. The total number of eggs laid by this pen of Barred Rocks on the Golden Rule Poultry Farm is 420 and the second highest, formerly the leading pen, has a record for February, the fourth month of this year, of 417, just three eggs behind.

Kazmeier Wins Place. In addition to holding the honors for the leading pen, Mr. Boriskie also holds fifth place in the same division of the contest, this place with a pen of Single Comb White Leghorns which has a record of 405. It is quite interesting to note that of 10 entries listed in the highest contest pens to date, 9 of them are records of White Leghorns and the only different breed is that of V. J. Boriskie, with Barred Rocks, and they top the list.

But just preceding fifth place held by V. J. Boriskie, is F. W. Kazmeier with a pen of S. C. White Leghorns with a record of 406, just one more than the same breed of the Golden Rule Farm.

Other places won in February in the contest were: Seventh place tied in highest contest pens for the month with Barred Plymouth Rocks, total egg laid 111; tied for seventh place in highest contest individuals to date with a S. C. White Leghorn, laying 91, and the high winner laying 102, during the fourth month the contest has been on.

DISTRICT MEETING OF WOMEN'S FEDERATION CLUBS APRIL 13-14-15

Mrs. A. R. Rucks, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for the Fourth District, announces the date of the district convention at Brenham as of April 13, 14 and 15. The delay in setting the date was due to a request for an exchange of date with another district but conflicting schedules made this impossible. She asks a large delegation from each club to be on hand on the above mentioned dates, as a splendid program is being arranged with much profit is expected from the meeting.

There were over 12,000 coupons or tickets issued during the time that the contest has been on. Tickets were issued to customers who purchased goods during a specified time. The tickets were drawn from a large tin box by a small girl. Twenty tickets were first drawn and these placed in a small box and thoroughly shaken up. The first number drawn from the 20 was the winning ticket of Mrs. Goolsbee's, No. 10939.

At the time of the drawing the store was jammed and packed with people interested in the outcome. O. J. Parks of the E. F. Parks Co., made a short talk, explaining that the contest was put on and the suite given away free as they felt that the public had given them splendid support to the end that the store had enjoyed great expansion and the people were entitled to share in the success of the store to which their patronage had been extended.

GOLDEN RULE POULTRY FARM LEADS PENS IN EGG-LAYING CONTEST

Under the name and motto of the "Golden Rule" Poultry Farm, and under the able and efficient management of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Boriskie of Shiloh community, the Barred Plymouth Rocks and Single Comb White Leghorns of this farm are making a name for themselves in the State and nation through egg-laying qualities. And along with V. Boriskie, bring credit and fame to Brazos county and her poultry production, is F. W. Kazmeier who operates the farm between Bryan and College. Between the two farms of this county, Brazos county is getting on the map in the poultry industry.

Leading all contest pens to date is that of V. J. Boriskie, when, for the first time this year in the Eighth Texas National Egg-Laying Contest a pen of Barred Rocks displaces a pen of White Leghorns, for the leading contest pen to date. The total number of eggs laid by this pen of Barred Rocks on the Golden Rule Poultry Farm is 420 and the second highest, formerly the leading pen, has a record for February, the fourth month of this year, of 417, just three eggs behind.

Kazmeier Wins Place.

In addition to holding the honors for the leading pen, Mr. Boriskie also holds fifth place in the same division of the contest, this place with a pen of Single Comb White Leghorns which has a record of 405. It is quite interesting to note that of 10 entries listed in the highest contest pens to date, 9 of them are records of White Leghorns and the only different breed is that of V. J. Boriskie, with Barred Rocks, and they top the list.

But just preceding fifth place held by V. J. Boriskie, is F. W. Kazmeier with a pen of S. C. White Leghorns with a record of 406, just one more than the same breed of the Golden Rule Farm.

Other places won in February in the contest were: Seventh place tied in highest contest pens for the month with Barred Plymouth Rocks, total egg laid 111; tied for seventh place in highest contest individuals to date with a S. C. White Leghorn, laying 91, and the high winner laying 102, during the fourth month the contest has been on.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SERVICE

The citizenship of Bryan will enjoy 12 per cent credit on all insurance policies written during the next twelve months due to the efficient fighting of fires by the members of the Bryan Fire Department. These men serving without pay, volunteering their service, risking their lives and leaving their work, home or pleasure should be given recognition by those who profit from their labor. The least we can do is to show our appreciation by co-operating in every way and never to let an opportunity pass to tell the boys how much their good work is appreciated.—A CITIZEN.

BRYAN BUSINESS HOUSE TOOK IN OVER FIFTEEN HUNDRED LAST SATURDAY

The sales and collections at one local business establishment in Bryan made a deposit this morning at a local bank of slightly more than $1,500, that being the total sales and collections on last Saturday. Davis on the bench to the May term of court, when it came up for trial Monday. Defendant was ill and the court accepted a statement to that effect from a local physician who attended Cramer.

NO CASES HAD BEEN SET ON THE DOCKET FOR ACTION IN DISTRICT COURT TODAY

"Once upon a time" a groceryman and a clergyman went a-fishing. That time was Thursday afternoon, the place the Fin-Feather Club and the results are of course problematical for this is a fish story. D. Mike and Rev. M. E. Hudson, of McKinney, evangelist for the revival services at the First Baptist church, visited the local club late Thursday afternoon and, according to H. O. Boatwright, had some remarkable results. Neither the grocer nor the clergyman reported on the number of fish caught, but a banker is authority for the statement that there was one fine 8-pound bass among the number. The veracity of all three men is beyond any doubt and since a non-interested party furnished the data, any doubters of McKinney, the preacher's home, may write there to authenticate the reports. While Mr. Boatwright, the banker, was said to be a non-interested party, that is not strictly the truth, for he admitted that he had had a small part in the consumption of the said finny individual.

SHERIFF JESS CONLEE CAPTURES STOLEN CAR AND MAN WHO TOOK IT

Due to the executive ability of Sheriff Jess Conlee of Brazos county a Buick roadster stolen from Houston on Wednesday has been recovered as well as the thief arrested, according to word from the sheriff's department this morning. The car and thief were apprehended about six or seven miles out of Corsicana on the Ennis road last Friday.

On Wednesday afternoon, Sheriff Binford of Houston telephoned to Sheriff Conlee that a Buick car had been stolen there, giving a description of the car and the driver. Sheriff Conlee spent five hours out on the main road from Houston through Bryan but failed to locate the party. On Thursday morning he got up about 3:30 o'clock and went to Groesbeck, Mexia, Wortham, Corsicana, and Mexia, for the purpose of endeavoring to locate something in regard to the W. L. McCulloch car, the Bill Taylor car, both stolen from Bryan, also a car stolen at Hearne, and the Houston Buick. As a result of his trip he feels that both cars taken from this city may be recovered. He heard nothing of the Hearne stolen car.

On Friday morning his itinerary covered some over-lapping territory, as follows: Wortham, Corsicana, Ennis, Waxahachie, Ennis, Corsicana, Waxahachie, Ennis and just about 7 or 8 miles out from Corsicana he met the stolen Buick with the driver. In the car with Sheriff Conlee was Deputy Sheriff Cal Baird of Groesbeck.

Sheriff Conlee turned around, overtook the Buick, passed it and when they came to a river bridge Sheriff Conlee stopped his car on the bridge, barring passage, and both officers covered the driver of the Buick, who though he had a .38 calibre pistol on the seat beside him, did not offer to use it. The man was brought back to Bryan by Conlee and placed in the Brazos county jail; the car will be brought to Bryan Wednesday by Conlee. The Sheriff at Houston has been advised of the capture of both the car and the driver and will come after the man who gives him name as Joe Brenner of Los Angeles, California, as soon as the car has been brought to Bryan.

The Crawford car, stolen from Bryan about a month ago, was found at Mexia and Mr. Crawford has recovered it, according to word from Sheriff Conlee.

WHY BRYAN GETS OUT OF TWELVE PER CENT FIRE INSURANCE RATE

With reference to the credit of twelve per cent to the City of Bryan on its fire insurance rate by the State Commission, statement of which was contained in Thursday's Daily Eagle, City Manager J. Bryan Miller, who is in a large measure responsible for the securing of this credit when he learned it was due the City, has given out the information or figures that made the credit possible. The fire premium for the City of Bryan in 1922 was $67,145.23; in 1923, $84,238.89; and in 1924, $87,895.89. For the same years, respectively, the fire losses were: $5,114.26; $58,223.66, and $29,393.33. The total of the premiums were $239,280.01, and the total losses, $92,731.25. This was a ratio loss of 38 per cent. Under the regulations of the fire insurance commission, a city is entitled to a credit of 3 per cent for each 5 per cent or fraction thereof less than 55 per cent loss ratio. Bryan's loss ratio is 38 per cent or 17 per cent under the 55 per cent basis. This is three full fives and a fraction, which is considered as a whole, making four in all. Since we get a credit of 3 per cent on each point of the "4," it makes a 12 per cent credit to the City of Bryan, thereby reducing our fire insurance rates through small losses in comparison with premiums paid.

BRAZOS COUNTY IS AGAIN HONORED BY SUCCESSFUL CAREER

To Dr. Archie Stallings, D. V. M., Houston, Texas, graduate of the A. and M. College of this State in the class of 1923, belong the credit for having first investigated and recognized the foot-and-mouth disease near Houston, his discovery and ability to diagnose the malady having saved this State, and perhaps other states as well, thousands, even millions of dollars—more money than has been appropriated to the A. and M. College from which place he received his training, in the whole course of its history.

On September 13th, Dr. Archie Stallings answered a call to the improved cattle farm of Dr. William States Jacobs. The herdsman had noted that one of the fine imported Brahmas had been slobbering and otherwise acting in a peculiar manner. Dr. Stallings, from his study of the foot-and-mouth disease in California, immediately suspected the nature of the malady but made an inoculation with the result that by the time Dr. Cole, Federal specialist when he summoned from Fort Worth, had arrived on the scene, the inoculated animal was down with the disease. It was only 14 days later that the entire herd was quarantined.

Is Native of Brazos.

During the battle to control any further spread of the foot-and-mouth disease, Dr. Stallings served as State inspector, making trips of observation through herds from surrounding ranges, looking for fresh cases. Federal officials declare that by his ability to recognize the contagion at the outset he has saved this country millions of dollars by preventing its general spread and the losses sustained in Texas were almost nothing to those incurred in California.

Dr. Stallings brings honor to the institution which gave him his training, and also the Brazos county, for he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stallings of Alexander community and is also a graduate of the Alexander school and Allen Military Academy. He is now opening a cat and dog hospital at 1206 City Park, Houston, Texas, taking over the Knight Hospital, which has been operated for many years.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SERVICE

The citizenship of Bryan will enjoy 12 per cent credit on all insurance policies written during the next twelve months due to the efficient fighting of fires by the members of the Bryan Fire Department. These men serving without pay, volunteering their service, risking their lives and leaving their work, home or pleasure should be given recognition by those who profit from their labor. The least we can do is to show our appreciation by co-operating in every way and never to let an opportunity pass to tell the boys how much their good work is appreciated.—A CITIZEN.

EVANGELIST IN BRYAN BEEN IMPLICATED IN A FISH STORY, IS SAID

"Once upon a time" a grocerman and a clergyman went a-fishing. That time was Thursday afternoon, the place the Fin-Feather Club and the results are of course problematical for this is a fish story. D. Mike and Rev. M. E. Hudson, of McKinney, evangelist for the revival services at the First Baptist church, visited the local club late Thursday afternoon and, according to H. O. Boatwright, had some remarkable results. Neither the grocer nor the clergyman reported on the number of fish caught, but a banker is authority for the statement that there was one fine 8-pound bass among the number. The veracity of all three men is beyond any doubt and since a non-interested party furnished the data, any doubters of McKinney, the preacher's home, may write here to authenticate the reports. While Mr. Boatwright, the banker, was said to be a non-interested party, that is not strictly the truth, for he admitted that he had had a small part in the consumption of the said finny individual.

SHERIFF JESS CONLEE CAPTURES STOLEN CAR AND MAN WHO TOOK IT

Due to the executive ability of Sheriff Jess Conlee of Brazos county a Buick roadster stolen from Houston on Wednesday has been recovered as well as the thief arrested, according to word from the sheriff's department this morning. The car and thief were apprehended about six or seven miles out of Corsicana on the Ennis road last Friday.

On Wednesday afternoon, Sheriff Binford of Houston telephoned to Sheriff Conlee that a Buick car had been stolen there, giving a description of the car and the driver. Sheriff Conlee spent five hours out on the main road from Houston through Bryan but failed to locate the party. On Thursday morning he got up about 3:30 o'clock and went to Groesbeck, Mexia, Wortham, Corsicana, and Mexia, for the purpose of endeavoring to locate something in regard to the W. L. McCulloch car, the Bill Taylor car, both stolen from Bryan, also a car stolen at Hearne, and the Houston Buick. As a result of his trip he feels that both cars taken from this city may be recovered. He heard nothing of the Hearne stolen car.

On Friday morning his itinerary covered some overlapping territory, as follows: Wortham, Corsicana, Ennis, Waxahachie, Ennis, Corsicana, Waxahachie, Ennis and just about 7 or 8 miles out from Corsicana he met the stolen Buick with the driver. In the car with Sheriff Conlee was Deputy Sheriff Cal Baird of Groesbeck.

Sheriff Conlee turned around, overtook the Buick, passed it and when they came to a river bridge Sheriff Conlee stopped his car on the bridge, barring passage, and both officers covered the driver of the Buick, who, though he had a .38 calibre pistol on the seat beside him, did not offer to use it. The man was brought back to Bryan by Conlee and placed in the Brazos county jail; the car will be brought to Bryan Wednesday by Conlee. The Sheriff at Houston has been advised of the capture of both the car and the driver and will come after the man who gives his name as Joe Bren of Los Angeles, California, as soon as the car has been brought to Bryan.

The Crawford car, stolen from Bryan about a month ago, was found at Mexia and Mr. Crawford has recovered it, according to word from Sheriff Conlee.

WHY BRYAN GETS CUT OF TWELVE PER CENT FIRE INSURANCE RATE

With reference to the credit of twelve per cent to the City of Bryan on its fire insurance rate by the State Commission, statement of which was contained in Thursday's Daily Eagle, City Manager J. Bryan Miller, who is in a large measure responsible for the securing of this credit when he learned it was due the City, has given out the information or figures that made the credit possible. The fire premium for the City of Bryan in 1922 was $67,145.23; in 1923, $84,238.89; and in 1924, $87,895.89. For the same years, respectively, the fire losses were: $5,114.26; $58,223.66, and $29,393.33. The total of the premiums were $229,280.01, and the total losses, $92,731.25. This was a ratio loss of 38 per cent. Under the regulations of the fire insurance commission, a city is entitled to a credit of 3 per cent for each 5 per cent or fraction thereof less than 55 per cent loss ratio. Bryan's loss ratio is 38 per cent or 17 per cent under the 55 per cent basis. This is three full fives and a fraction, which is considered as a whole, making four in all. Since we get a credit of 3 per cent on each point of credit, it makes a 12 per cent credit to the City of Bryan, thereby reducing our fire insurance rates through small losses in comparison with premiums paid.

BRAZOS COUNTY IS AGAIN HONORED BY SUCCESSFUL CAREER

To Dr. Archie Stallings, D. V. M., Houston, Texas, graduate of the A. and M. College of this State in the class of 1923, belong the credit for having first investigated and recognized the foot-and-mouth disease near Houston, his discovery and ability to diagnose the malady having saved this State, and perhaps other states as well, thousands, even millions of dollars—more money than has been appropriated to the A. and M. College from which place he received his training, in the whole course of its history.

On September 13th, Dr. Archie Stallings answered a call to the improved cattle farm of Dr. William States Jacobs. The herdsman had noted that one of the fine imported Brahmas had been slobbering and otherwise acting in a peculiar manner. Dr. Stallings, from his study of the foot-and-mouth disease in California, immediately suspected the nature of the malady but made an inoculation with the result that by the time Dr. Cole, Federal specialist whom he summoned from Fort Worth, had arrived on the scene, the inoculated animal was down with the disease. It was only 14 days later that the entire herd was quarantined.

Is Native of Brazos.

During the battle to control any further spread of the foot-and-mouth disease, Dr. Stallings served as State inspector, making trips of observation through herds from surrounding ranges, looking for fresh cases. Federal officials declare that by his ability to recognize the contagion at the outset he has saved this country millions of dollars by preventing its general spread and the losses sustained in Texas were almost nothing to those incurred in California.

Dr. Stallings brings honor to the institution which gave him his training, and also the Brazos county, for he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stallings of Alexander community and is also a graduate of the Alexander school and Allen Military Academy. He is now opening a cat and dog hospital at 1206 City Park, Houston, Texas, taking over the Knight Hospital, which has been operated for many years.

DIED SOON AFTERWARD

Henry Prinzal of Kurten, aged 66, farmer of near Kurten was killed this morning as a result of a runaway. He left Kurten about 8:00 o'clock in a single buggy for Bryan and was found between 8:30 and 9 o'clock, lying beside the buggy, from which the horse had broken loose and fled, by the side of the road, by Mrs. Lessie Hearn of Bryan, who teaches at the Kurten school and who was on her way to classes. She summoned help from nearby farmhouses and had Mr. Prinzal, who was still alive, taken to the farm home of Will Killenbrink, where he died about 10:00 o'clock. Dr. W. F. Odum was summoned from Kurten and was at the bedside when he died. According to E. R. Lloyd of Kurten who talked to Dr. Odum and was at the Killenbrink farm shortly after Mr. Prinzal died, there were no broken bones, no bruises or other marks to show cause of death, which may have been from heart trouble due to fright from the horse running or from apoplexy.

The buggy, which is still by the roadside, bears no marks of a runaway, the wheels being intact and the shafts in place. There is no reason given for his having been undiscovered so long a time as between a half hour and an hour, when farm homes are so close, one of them, Tado Heinz, being less than 200 yards distant. What frightened the horse attached to the buggy has been a speculation, the rumor being current that it was a boy on a Shetland pony, but this has not been verified, said Mr. Lloyd.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR DISTRICT CONVENTION OPENED LAST NIGHT

The song service was led by Paul Drummet, also of Houston, and who is president of the Houston City Union. Miss Mary Jo Inkley, of Houston, was at the piano. The devotion was led by Rev. L. Guy Ament, pastor of the Christian church of Bryan. Hon. ALLEN DEFEATED TEAM OF CALDWELL HIGH IN FIRST BASEBALL GAME

The baseball team of the Allen Academy motored over to Caldwell on Friday afternoon and won from the nine of Caldwell high school by the score of 11 to 6. This was the first game of the season for Allen Academy. The features of the game were the home-run by Pruett of Allen and the stellar pitching of Bethea of Allen, who got 18 strikeouts during the game, an average of two out of a possible three each inning. Indications are that Allen Academy is going to develop a strong nine this spring and go out for the conference honors in this division also. They have already this year won the football and basketball conference championships, and victories in track and baseball, which seem probable, would give them an outstanding year in athletics.

As a guest of Mr. Cazell she visited the Waxahachie Rotary luncheon on last Wednesday. Mrs. Cazell is very enthusiastic over the courtesies extended her and has nothing but praise for the hospitality of the Ennis and Waxahachie people.

BRYAN HIGH LOST AGAIN.

The Bryan debate team which motored to Calvert last night in a car driven by Stuart Cole, returned in the early morning hours with defeat again tacked on them, by a two to one decision of the judges. Meeting with reserves may bolster the Bryan high team to renewed efforts. This debate, as with Hearn, was not official but rather of a practice nature. The judges were three members of the Calvert school board. A declamation contest preceded the holding of the debate and Miss Gladys Regal, instructor in declamation of the Bryan High School who acted as one of the judges, stated that the declamations were exceptionally good.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR DISTRICT CONVENTION OPENED LAST NIGHT

The Houston District Christian Endeavor convention held its opening session Friday evening. The meeting was presided over by Howard Morris of Houston, who is president of the district. The song service was led by Paul Drummet, also of Houston, and who is president of the Houston City Union. Miss Mary Jo Inkley, of Houston, was at the piano. The devotional was led by Rev. L. Guy Ament, pastor of the Christian church of Bryan. Hon. Oak McKenzie, county attorney of Brazos county, in his courteous way made the welcome address on the part of the City of Bryan and did it in such a way that the delegates feel that they are welcome guests to this city and will be at home here. Some committees were appointed by the president after which the address of the evening was given by E. F. Hupertz, state field secretary, which was enjoyed by all.

Social Hour Enjoyed.

After the business session all were invited to the Sunday school annex to enjoy a social hour. This was under the able leadership of Mrs. Jack Bullard and Mrs. Wm. Johnson. After several get-acquainted games and some appropriate C. E. songs, punch and sandwiches were served. All went away feeling that they were glad they were Christian Endeavorers. The public is invited to attend all services. The convention will be in session through Saturday and Sunday evening.

ALLEN DEFEATED TEAM OF CALDWELL HIGH IN FIRST BASEBALL GAME

The baseball team of the Allen Academy motored over to Caldwell on Friday afternoon and won from the nine of Caldwell high school by the score of 11 to 6. This was the first game of the season for Allen Academy. The features of the game were the home-run by Pruett of Allen and the stellar pitching of Bethea of Allen, who got 18 strikes out during the game, an average of two out of a possible three each inning. Indications are that Allen Academy is going to develop a strong nine this spring and go out for the conference honors in this division also. They have already this year won the football and basketball conference championships, and victories in track and baseball, which seem probable, would give them an outstanding year in athletics.

A TALK TO REAL FARMERS

By A. W. BUCHANAN

In my last article I tried to show the folly of cotton farmers, especially of Texas, continuing to produce under present methods and conditions which necessitate the cultivation of sixteen million acres in cotton to produce four million bales. I do not believe there is a man anywhere who has given the subject real thoughtful consideration who will disagree with me on the proposition that the cotton grower can no longer afford to pursue the same methods, especially since the McFarlane demonstration. If cotton acre production can be increased as much as 100 per cent, and the McFarlane demonstration shows an increase of 800 per cent, then it seems that the world would naturally be the most interesting subject, just at this time, to all cotton farmers, and that they would be absolutely frantic to set about adopting any change that would bring about such an increase in production. This increase can be brought about as surely as an intelligent effort is made to that end. I mean 100 per cent increase.

I do not know if there has been a report made on the production of all the acreage that was entered in this last year's contest. I have not seen such a report. In the absence of such information, I will venture the assertion that if we had the true facts on all the hundreds of five-acre plots that were entered in this contest we would see an increase over the state's average production of over 200 per cent. I saw many of these plots over in East Texas on up-land that made a bale and more to the acre, and a bale to the acre is practically an increase of 300 per cent, and in fifty years there has never been a more unfavorable season than was the whole of 1924. If this increase could be brought about in such an unfavorable season, how much more easily it could be done when conditions were favorable. Then, think! This increase was brought about in a single season—it was simply remarkable! To build up soil and increase its productivity will require a succession of years, but it can be done in less time and at less expense than one would think. I shall not go into details here as to how this increase in production can be brought about in the best and quickest way. I might do this in a future article.

Brazos Valley Gave Proof.
Not long ago the writer heard one of the largest and best farmers in the Brazos Valley make the assertion that a quarter of a bale of cotton to the acre on a large plantation, even in the rich Brazos bottom, was a good average crop. Just a few minutes after this, this man took the writer to a fifteen-acre plot that had been grown in alfalfa for a few years, but last year was broken up and planted in cotton. This plot made more over a bale to the acre, while a quarter of a bale was the average on all the balance of the large, magnificent plantation, according to the estimation of this fine farmer, and he is one of the best that the writer knows.

Suppose this man with his splendid ability and general farm management information were to set about improving his soil so that he would have an increased production amounting to half rather than a quarter of a bale, which he could bring about in four years or less time, what would it mean to this man? It would mean that he could cut his cotton acreage in half and raise the same amount of cotton at practically half his present expense. He could do it on half the farm force, his renters could produce enough to receive fair wages for their labor, and they could work with a reasonable hope of some day making more than a scant living. This surplus land could be farmed in crops that would serve to improve the soil. These crops could be made to pay, as they can be grown and harvested at a very nominal cost. But more of this in a later article.

Over-Production Problem.
Now, in answer to my argument on the greater yield, the greater profit to the grower, that is if the reduction of acreage were equal to or even more than the increase of acre production, I can hear the argument coming from every quarter, that if we increase acre production we will not in proportion decrease acreage; this would bring about over-production which would inevitably bring the price of cotton down to starvation. This is a very common argument, and one can grant that such a thing as over-production is easily possible. And, going on the proposition that it is impossible for the cotton farmer to come together for the purpose of bettering their conditions in any way, or that they are totally incapable of exercising any forethought or judgment whatever, then we could say that over-production and ruinous prices would inevitably follow increased acre production. But let us answer this argument by saying that the farmers can change and will change, for the time has now come when they can see the necessity of these changes, as suggested by these contests, sponsored by the Dallas and Semi-Weekly Farm News. But if we are determined to go heedlessly on, doing everything in our power to raise all the cotton that is possible to be produced, then it would be far better never to learn these better methods or to make an effort to increase acre production and let present methods and poor soil continue, if that is the only methods by which the size of the crop can be held in the range of supply and demand. For we must remember that our fourteen million bale crop last year brought us nearly two hundred million dollars less than the ten and a half million bale crop of 1923. Since the world has stood and man has followed any sort of pursuit for a livelihood, he has never been guilty of any one thing so foolish as the Southern farmers trying to grow bumper crops of cotton when a reasonably small crop would bring more money by hundreds of millions of dollars. I do not advocate a crop smaller than the world actually needs, but I do warn the farmers against the production of a large surplus, which always means low prices.

I believe the cotton farmers are waking up to the real situation and are going to employ the methods that will enable them to make a world supply of cotton on one-half or less than half the present acreage at one-half the cost of labor and expense, which will increase their profits in proportion. I believe the cotton farmers now see it and are going to do it.

The nurse made her report for February, after which the committee discussed the employment of a negro health nurse. Mr. Miller moved that one be employed from Prairie View for two months at $50 per month and if she gives satisfaction and necessary funds be found available, she be engaged for a year. Dr. Humbert seconded the motion, which was carried. The committee then adjourned to meet the first Saturday in April.

FORMER BRYAN BOY IS SUCCESS AS AN ACTOR—VISITING HERE NOW

W. Harold Kinney, of the Walker Stock Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, who formerly made his home in Bryan with his grandmother, Mrs. T. P. Boyett of this city, is here for a few weeks' visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Kinney is remembered as one of the bright, attractive and musical lads who "grew up" in Bryan, and a cordial greeting is being accorded him on this visit. After his school days in Bryan, Mr. Kinney attended Baylor University, at Waco, and during his college days became well known in that city as an amateur actor. During the time, Stuart Walker, an outstanding theatrical manager, actor, producer, playwright and director, who is unusually interested in uncovering and cultivating young talent, visited in Waco and became attracted to young Kinney. While touring Texas in the spring of 1924, Mr. Walker studied the abilities of W. Harold Kinney and stamped him as a typical juvenile type, which resulted in an engagement for Kinney with Mr. Walker's Repertory Company in Cincinnati.

Young W. Harold Kinney, in the nine months he has been with the company has become prominent in the Middle West as a juvenile actor and acquired a thorough technique which, with her cleverness and personality, has resulted in rapid progress upward in the theatrical world. After his present visit in Bryan, young Kinney goes to New York for a conference, thence to Cincinnati for a return engagement with the Stuart Walker Company for the spring and summer seasons. W. Harold Kinney has played diversified roles, having played a different characterization each week for thirty-two consecutive weeks. His greatest success perhaps was as Cyril Mortimer in "The Thunderbolt," for which he has received the highest praise from the public and the press. Again Bryan praises her "home boys," and wishes for W. Harold Kinney every success in his chosen profession. Although only 21 years of age, young Kinney has already gained for himself a place among the great actors of today.

Mrs. Floyd Todd is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Jones in Dallas. Stafford Reed will return to his job today on the railroad, with headquarters at Fort Smith, Arkansas, after a pleasant visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reed.

Dempsey Dyess was greeting his friends at Harvey Sunday. He has a job testing oil and is home for a few days while he awaits instructions as to where he is needed next.

In the absence of Rev. R. L. Brown, who was helping in the revival service at College Station, Mr. Short, an A. and M. student, filled his pulpit at Bethel church Sunday afternoon. He made a very good talk on "The Inspiration of the Bible." There was quite a good congregation for an afternoon service.

There are some cases of small pox close around our community. We are hoping they will not come as far as into our neighborhood.

Most every body who had the flu in our community is feeling better now.

The King's Highway school is getting along nicely. For diversion the boys and girls are busy playing marbles; also H. E. Connor, principal of the school.

INTEREST GROWING IN JUNIOR MISSIONARY

There were 42 present at last Sunday morning's meeting of the Junior Missionary Society of the First Methodist church, two of them being new members. The reports showed 9 visits to the sick, one gift to sick and 34 doing Weekly Bible reading in the home. On account of the sickness at home, Junior Missionary President John W. Black, Jr., was absent and for the first time this year, vice president Mary Bess Egan presided. Mrs. M. R. Bentley gave a splendid lesson, in an interesting manner, on "Better Americans" after which the children adjourned to the adjoining room to see the stereopticon slides on the "Life of Washington," accompanied by an explanation by Miss Myra Ewin. The pictures not only dealt with the personal life of Washington, but upon the incidents that lead up to the environment and conditions, giving the history of the land from its early colonization until the time of the birth of the present government and the launching of the great Republic under our constitution. Saturday's church announcement column will give notice of the series of pictures that will be shown on next Sunday morning.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Lessons On Poultry.

First year poultry club lessons, published by the Extension Service of the A. and M. College of Texas, says, "The four important factors for the success of baby chicks are correct feeding, exercise, sanitation and temperature." Failure to recognize the importance of each and all these factors is the explanation for the failure of many poultry projects.

Magnolia Figs for Brazos.

D. B. Lanham, marketing specialist, Extension Service of the A. and M. College of Texas, says, in bulletin C-37, Making Money out of Magnolia Figs. "At the present time, 1924, there are between 1,500 and 2,000 acres of bearing Magnolia figs in the Gulf Coast section of this State. About 5,000 acres more have been planted. These will begin to bear next year, for the Magnolia figs begin commercial bearing in their second year." The county agent of Brazos county has been receiving inquiries concerning the possibilities of the fig industry in this county, where lands are, evidently much cheaper than in the section of the large commercial orchards of the coast region. Why not have the fig industry developed in Brazos county?

Pork Thirteen Cents Now.

Some weeks ago we called the attention to the fact that A. L. Ward, swine specialist of the Extension Service, suggested that the outlook was good for 15 cent pork next fall. Already market quotations have gone above the 13-cents mark, and no one knows where the limit is. Better take special care of the brood sow and her litter. Let's produce our pork at home and get more biscuits and less pork from Kansas City in the future.

Honor Comes To Farmer.

Born and reared on a farm, trained in the practical problems of the farm, dean director and president of a great agricultural college, appointed to the responsible position of secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, is the order in which rapid promotion has come to Dr. W. M. Jardine, our new Secretary of Agriculture. In discussing the agricultural situation, Hoard's Dairyman quotes Dr. Jardine as saying in substance that "Knowledge, industry and vision would make farming as successful at it has been in the past and that the farmer has within him many of the resources which will enable him to build that economic security which is essential if his career as a farmer is to be useful and satisfying to himself, his family and his community."

Will Take Work To Win.

At the Kurten community meeting on Tuesday night, March 3, R. W. Persons announced that the first prize for the best community club this year would be a $600 Western Electric light plant, and suggested that such a plant would be a fine addition to the new community auditorium at Kurten. Let us not forget that it will take harder work this year to win the state championship in club work than ever before. The only question is, "Are we willing to pay the price?"

Long Time To Accomplish.

Prizes put up for the encouragement of agriculture would amount to vastly more if they were offered for work, or performances, on long-time constructive programs for the betterment of agriculture, rather than for spasmodic yields in an unbalanced system of farming, or for achievements wrought through enthusiasm which can not last. In many respects, agriculture, having to deal with living organisms, can not be speeded up, as is the case with other industries having to deal with inanimate nature. We can not put a great agricultural program over in a day. It takes time for the soil to rebuild, the plants to develop, and for animals to reproduce. In the nature of things, agriculture is, therefore, a long-time process. Let us not be weary, but seek to know whether we are going.

Sayings of Director Hill.

Pointed says of I. W. Hill, director of club work in the Southern States, United States Department of Agriculture, at recent club and community meetings held in Brazos county, are:

"Club work can ride five ships: ownership, partnership, leadership, sportsmanship and citizenship."

"If you will show me a community where people meet together, I'll show you a people who love each other."

"Boys and girls should be taught the responsibility of spending."

"Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt is the greatest booster of club work in the United States. (Covered a heap o' territory.)"

"Consolidated rural schools are the best places to educate boys and girls."

"Don't become self-satisfied. Keep your feet on the ground and press forward."

"Club work trains in economic efficiency, a thing the schools can not give."

"The civilization of the world rests on soil fertility. The duty of every land owner is to transmit to the next generation a soil increased in fertility."

"The significance of the club emblem, the four-leaf clover, with its four H's, meaning health, head, hand, heart and health, is pedagogically sound."

"Let your aim be 'Ad Astra' (to the stars)."

"Club work is the greatest organization of boys and girls in the world."

Seed-Bed Counts A Lot.

Farmers are beginning to learn

that in order to get best results from use of fertilizers favorable seasons and the condition of the seed-bed are important factors. There are many things making possible the latter, among them being good tools, ample horse or tractor power, and skill in doing the work. No one has control over the seasons, but preparation of the seed bed has much to do with conservation of moisture.

Agriculture Is A Business.

"Farming, like banking or running a railroad, requires good business management. Not hard work alone, but careful planning is necessary to success. Brains are coming to be quite as essential as muscle on the modern farm." The old idea that the only qualification for a farmer was to be "strong in the arm and weak in the head" is passing—the sooner the better—and farming is being recognized as a business along with other business enterprises. Too often exploitation has made the farmer to feel the sting of "man's inhumanity to man" make countless thousands mourn," but a new ideal in business, "Service above Self," seeks to apply the principles of the Golden Rule to all mankind in every relation of life.

Barred Rock Characteristics.

Every one in the poultry business should be familiar with the characteristics of the breed in which he is interested. Look next week for some of the characteristics of the Barred Rocks.

FUNDS ARE RAPIDLY BEING COLLECTED ON PLEDGES SUBSCRIBED

Rapid progress in the collection of funds recently subscribed by members of the Southern Presbyterian church in Texas for the support of their schools and colleges was evidenced by a report made to the campaign committee by Rev. J. S. Baird, D. D., financial secretary of the Board, at their meeting in Dallas on March 4th. The report showed that $380,000 has been paid on pledges totaling $1,370,000, according to the secretary.

Information given to the committee by heads of the various institutions represented showed an increased attendance for the present scholastic year, it was announced.

Interest Is Increasing.

Commenting on the accomplishments of the recent Educational movement, Dr. Baird said: "Not only has our recent campaign resulted in providing much needed aid for Presbyterian schools, but there is also manifest an increased interest in these institutions by those of our denomination in Texas, which will be of benefit to them long after the present money has been expended."

New subscriptions totaling $4,000 have been added to the amount pledged since the close of the campaign last July, the board was told.

COURTHOUSE FORCE TO CHALLENGE TEACHERS FOR GAME PUNKIN BALL

District Clerk J. W. Barron, County Attorney Oak McKenzie, Judge J. W. Hamilton, County Clerk A. S. McSwain and County Tax Collector J. M. Ferguson, et al, of the Brazos county court house force have filed a challenge in the Eagle against Superintendent Madison Hall, Principal C. M. Bethany, et al, for a game of "punkin" ball to be played at a date and place to be determined upon arbitration. Superintendent Hall has been notified of the challenge and declares that even when a boy he never took a "dare" and it was too late to start now. The week after district court has been suggested as tentative time and the place may be the court house lawn if the authorities or custodians will permit. It would be played some evening beginning about 5 o'clock.

Punkin ball, so called, is an excellent form of recreation for the business man. Instead of using a hard baseball that might incapacitate him for usefulness on the following day, through hard contact with some portion of his anatomy, the ball is of the indoor baseball type, and is extra large and rather soft. The bat used is of the small-boy, ten-cent variety. Then players are used on each side, and played just like regular baseball, except with two shortstops and the bases much closer together, because the ball cannot be knocked but a short distance. Much fun and amusement can be derived from the game and it is fine creation as well.

Besides, a collection may be taken up for the school or the court house force, for no doubt many spectators would be glad to give a dime to see some of the players run those bases, with a minimum amount of tumbles between third and home.

ECHOES OF GALVESTON CONVENTION AT MEET OF ROTARY CLUB TODAY

Following the singing of songs led by S. Moylan Bird and the consumption of the fine dinner set forth, the regular Wednesday noon luncheon of the Bryan Rotary Club was turned into a report from each member present at the Galveston convention of the 13th district. Those making reports were D. L. Wilson, Gabe Cazell, Gene Humbert, Dr. Jno. W. Black, H. H. Williamson, Kay Halseil and Mayor Tyler Haswell. It was the consensus of opinion that it was a great meeting and full of inspiration and worth-while things to help one catch the vision and the real interpretation of the meeting. One of the things stressed by nearly all the speakers was better attendance. Gabe Cazell made a personal plea with regard to the dangers of roller skating to the children and urged that a tract of land be bought, preferably an acre, near the city, cemented and made a skating rink for children where they are free from menace.

President D. L. Wilson appointed Todd White and E. E. Yeager to be Rotary members of the committee to secure the firemen's convention here in 1926, and Sam E. Eberstadt, Gene Humbert and Dr. Jno. W. Black as the committee to attend the Saturday night meeting of the Reliance community club.

Those present were: T. A. Adams, C. L. Benson, C. S. Beckwith, S. M. Bird, J. W. Black, William Bradley, J. F. Casey, Gabe Cazell, Jess Conlee, W. F. Davis, R. M. Dansby, S. E. Eberstadt, E. B. Elliott, W. E. Farmer, H. C. Fulgham, C. E. Greiser, O. W. Goolsbee, F. L. Henderson, Chas. F. Hillier, Kay Halseil, Tyler Haswell, E. P. Humbert, H. N. June, J. H. Kraft, T. K. Lawrence, W. H. A TALK TO REAL FARMERS

By A. W. BUCHANAN

In my last article I tried to show the folly of cotton farmers, especially of Texas, continuing to produce under present methods and conditions which necessitate the cultivation of sixteen million acres in cotton to produce four million bales. I do not believe there is a man anywhere who has given the subject real thoughtful consideration who will disagree with me on the proposition that the cotton grower can no longer afford to pursue the same methods, especially since the McFarlane demonstration. If cotton acre production can be increased as much as 100 per cent, and the McFarlane demonstration shows an increase of 800 per cent, then it seems that the world would naturally be the most interesting subject, just at this time, to all cotton farmers, and that they would be absolutely frantic to set about adopting any change that would bring about such an increase in production. This increase can be brought about as surely as an intelligent effort is made to that end. I mean 100 per cent increase.

I do not know if there has been a report made on the production of all the acreage that was entered in this last year's contest. I have not seen such a report. In the absence of such information, I will venture the assertion that if we had the true facts on all the hundreds of five-acre plots that were entered in this contest we would see an increase over the state's average production of over 200 per cent. I saw many of these plots over in East Texas on up-land that made a bale and more to the acre, and a bale to the acre is practically an increase of 300 per cent, and in fifty years there has never been a more unfavorable season than was the whole of 1924. If this increase could be brought about in such an unfavorable season, how much more easily it could be done when conditions were favorable. Then, think! This increase was brought about in a single season—it was simply remarkable! To build up soil and increase its productivity will require a succession of years, but it can be done in less time and at less expense than one would think. I shall not go into details here as to how this increase in production can be brought about in the best and quickest way. I might do this in a future article.

Brazos Valley Gave Proof.
Not long ago the writer heard one of the largest and best farmers in the Brazos Valley make the assertion that a quarter of a bale of cotton to the acre on a large plantation, even in the rich Brazos bottom, was a good average crop. Just a few minutes after this, this man took the writer to a fifteen-acre plot that had been grown in alfalfa for a few years, but last year was broken up and planted in cotton. This plot made over a bale to the acre, while a quarter of a bale was the average on all the balance of the large, magnificent plantation, according to the estimation of this fine farmer, and he is one of the best that the writer knows.

Suppose this man with his splendid ability and general farm management information were to set about improving his soil so that he would have an increased production amounting to half rather than a quarter of a bale, which he could bring about in four years or less time, what would it mean to this man? It would mean that he could cut his cotton acreage in half and raise the same amount of cotton at practically half his present expense. He could do it on half the farm force, his renters could produce enough to receive fair wages for their labor, and they could work with a reasonable hope of some day making more than a scant living. This surplus land could be farmed in crops that would serve to improve the soil. These crops could be made to pay, as they can be grown and harvested at a very nominal cost. But more of this in a later article.

Over-Production Problem.
Now, in answer to my argument on the greater yield, the greater profit to the grower, that is if the reduction of acreage were equal to or even more than the increase of acre production, I can hear the argument coming from every quarter, that if we increase acre production we will not in proportion decrease acreage; this would bring about over-production which would inevitably bring the price of cotton down to starvation. This is a very common argument, and one can grant that such a thing as over-production is easily possible. And, going on the proposition that it is impossible for the cotton farmers ever to come together for the purpose of bettering their conditions in any way, or that they are totally incapable of exercising any forethought or judgment whatever, then we could say that over-production and ruinous prices would inevitably follow increased acre production. But let us answer this argument by saying that the farmers can change and will change, for the time has now come when they can see the necessity of these changes, as suggested by these contests, sponsored by the Dallas and Semi-Weekly Farm News. But if we are determined to go heedlessly on, doing everything in our power to raise all the cotton that is possible to be produced, then it would be far better never to learn these better methods or to make an effort to increase acre production and let present methods and poor soil continue, if that is the only methods by which the size of the crop can be held in the range of supply and demand. For we must remember that our fourteen million bale crop last year brought us nearly two hundred million dollars less than the ten and a half million bale crop of 1923. Since the world has stood and man has followed any sort of pursuit for a livelihood, he has never been guilty of any one thing so foolish as the Southern farmers trying to grow bumper crops of cotton when a reasonably small crop would bring more money by hundreds of millions of dollars.

I do not advocate a crop smaller than the world actually needs, but I do warn the farmers against the production of a large surplus, which always means low prices.

I believe the cotton farmers are waking up to the real situation and are going to employ the methods that will enable them to make a world supply of cotton on one-half or less than half the present acreage at one-half the cost of labor and expense, which will increase their profits in proportion. I believe the cotton farmers now see it and are going to do it.

NEGRO HEALTH NURSE FROM PRAIRIE VIEW HAS BEEN EMPLOYED

The Health Committee of Brazos county met in regular session on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the county nurse's office at the courthouse. Those in attendance were Mrs. A. H. Leidigh, chairman; Mrs. J. T. Hanway, secretary; and the following members, Mrs. Geo. Jones, Mrs. Walter Smith, J. B. Miller, Dr. E. P. Humbert, with J. Webb Howell as a guest. FORMER BRYAN BOY IS SUCCESS AS AN ACTOR --VISITING HERE NOW

W. Harold Kinney, of the Walker Stock Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, who formerly made his home in Bryan with his grandmother, Mrs. T. P. Boyett of this city, is here for a six weeks' visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Kinney is remembered as one of the bright, attractive and musical lads who "grew up" in Bryan, and a cordial greeting is being accorded him on this visit. After his school days in Bryan, Mr. Kinney attended Baylor University at Waco, and during his college days became well known in that city as an amateur actor. During the time, Stuart Walker, an outstanding theatrical manager, actor, producer, playwright and director, who is unusually interested in uncovering and cultivating young talent, visited in Waco and became attracted to young Kinney. While touring Texas in the spring of 1924, Mr. Walker studied the abilities of W. Harold Kinney and stamped him as a typical juvenile type, which resulted in an engagement for Kinney with Mr. Walker's Repertory Company in Cincinnati.

Young W. Harold Kinney, in the nine months he has been with the company has become prominent in the Middle West as a juvenile actor and acquired a thorough technique which, with her cleverness and personality, has resulted in rapid progress upward in the theatrical world. After his present visit in Bryan, young Kinney goes to New York for a conference, thence to Cincinnati for a return engagement with the Stuart Walker Company for the spring and summer seasons. W. Harold Kinney has played diversified roles, having played a different characterization each week for thirty-two consecutive weeks. His greatest success perhaps was as Cyril Mortimer in "The Thunderbolt," for which he has received the highest praise from the public and the press. Again Bryan praises her "home boys," and wishes for W. Harold Kinney every success in his chosen profession. Although only 21 years of age, young Kinney has already gained for himself a place among the great actors of today.

GALVESTON, Mar. 11.—Bringing to a close its two days' session, the old Thirteenth Rotary district passed out of existence this afternoon with the nomination of three district governors to head these divisions into which it has been divided. They were Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, for district 41; Sid Hardin of Mission, for district 47; and Bruce Bogart of Dallas for district 48. Election of the district governor who succeeds to the territory presided over last year by Harry Rogers of San Antonio, will take place at the 1925 international meeting at Cleveland.

HARVEY HAPPENINGS

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle)
HARVEY, Mar. 11.—The farmers are busy as can be breaking land, and some are planting corn, still hoping for rain. We had only 1-2 inch of rain during February.

First year poultry club lessons, published by the Extension Service of the A. and M. College of Texas, says, "The four important factors for the success of baby chicks are correct feeding, exercise, sanitation and temperature." Failure to recognize the importance of each and all these factors is the explanation for the failure of many poultry projects.

Magnolia Figs for Brazos.
D. B. Lanham, marketing specialist, Extension Service of the A. and M. College of Texas, says, in bulletin C-37, Making Money out of Magnolia Figs, "At the present time, 1924, there are between 1,500 and 2,000 acres of bearing Magnolia figs in the Gulf Coast section of this state. About 5,000 acres more have been planted. These will begin to bear next year, for the Magnolia figs begin commercial bearing in their second year." The county agent of Brazos county has been receiving inquiries concerning the possibilities of the fig industry in this county, where lands are, evidently much cheaper than in the section of the large commercial orchards of the coast region. Why not have the fig industry developed in Brazos county?

KINGS HIGHWAY
(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle)
KING'S HIGHWAY, Mar. 11.—The little rain we had here Sunday made everybody feel comfortable. Most of the farmers are busy planting corn, while some have already completed the task.

The singing at Mr. Nash's house last Sunday night was enjoyed by every one who attended. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Corgey and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. Connor, Johnnie Mainerd, Rufus Mainerd, Leonard Bush, Bill Bush, Vick Robertson, Jerry Novosad, Radolph Kindt, Norman McDonald, Misses Ola Henry, Ora Bush, Sybil Lewis, Vlasta Novosad, Alma Kindt, Selma Kindt, Rebekah Kelly, Grace McDonald, Evie Mainerd, Minnie Nash, Lorene Nash and Jettie Nash. Miss Jettie Nash played the piano while the rest were on the program for singing.

There are some cases of small pox close around our community. We are hoping they will not come as far as into our neighborhood. Most every body who had the flu in our community is feeling better now.

The King's Highway school is getting along nicely. For diversion the boys and girls are busy playing marbles; also H. E. Connor, principal of the school.

INTEREST GROWING IN JUNIOR MISSIONARY

There were 42 present at last Sunday morning's meeting of the Junior Missionary Society of the First Methodist church, two of them being new members. The reports showed 9 visits to the sick, one gift to sick and 34 doing Weekly Bible reading in the home. On account of the sickness at home, Junior Missionary President John W. Black, Jr., was absent and for the first time this year, vice President Mary Bess Egan presided. Mrs. M. B. Bentley gave a splendid lesson, in an interesting manner, on "Better Americans" after which the children adjourned to the adjoining room to see the stereopticon slides on the "Life of Washington," accompanied by an explanation by Miss Myra Ewin. The pictures not only dealt with the personal life of Washington, but upon the incidents that lead up to the environment and conditions, giving the history of the land from its early colonization until the time of the birth of the present government and the launching of the great Republic under our constitution. Saturday's church announcement column will give notice of the series of pictures that will be shown on next Sunday morning.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Lessons On Poultry.

First year poultry club lessons, published by the Extension Service of the A. and M. College of Texas, says, "The four important factors for the success of baby chicks are correct feeding, exercise, sanitation and temperature." Failure to recognize the importance of each and all these factors is the explanation for the failure of many poultry projects.

Pork Thirteen Cents Now.

Some weeks ago we called the attention to the fact that A. L. Ward, swine specialist of the Extension Service, suggested that the outlook was good for 15 cent pork next fall. Already market quotations have gone above the 13-cents mark, and no one knows where the limit is. Better take special care of the brood sow and her litter. Let's produce our pork at home and get more biscuits and less pork from Kansas City in the future.

Honor Comes To Farmer.

Born and reared on a farm, trained in the practical problems of the farm, dean director and president of a great agricultural college, appointed to the responsible position of secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, is the order in which rapid promotion has come to Dr. W. M. Jardine, our new Secretary of Agriculture. In discussing the agricultural situation, Hoard's Dairyman quotes Dr. Jardine as saying in substance that "Knowledge, industry and vision would make farming as successful at it has been in the past and that the farmer has within him many of the resources which will enable him to build that economic security which is essential if his career as a farmer is to be useful and satisfying to himself, his family and his community."

Will Take Work To Win.

At the Kurten community meeting on Tuesday night, March 3, R. W. Persons announced that the first prize for the best community club this year would be a $600 Western Electric light plant, and suggested that such a plant would be a fine addition to the new community auditorium at Kurten. Let us not forget that it will take harder work this year to win the state championship in club work than ever before. The only question is, "Are we willing to pay the price?"

Long Time To Accomplish.

Prizes put up for the encouragement of agriculture would amount to vastly more if they were offered for work, or performances, on long-time constructive programs for the betterment of agriculture, rather than for spasmodic yields in an unbalanced system of farming, or for achievements wrought through enthusiasm which can not last. In many respects, agriculture, having to deal with living organisms, can not be speeded up, as is the case with other industries having to deal with inanimate nature. We can not put a great agricultural program over in a day. It takes time for the soil to rebuild, the plants to develop, and for animals to reproduce. In the nature of things, agriculture is, therefore, a long-time process. Let us not be weary, but seek to know whether we are going.

Sayings of Director Hill.

Pointed says of I. W. Hill, director of club work in the Southern States, United States Department of Agriculture, at recent club and campaign meetings held in Brazos county, are:

"Club work can ride five ships: ownership, partnership, leadership, sportsmanship and citizenship.

"If you will show me a community where people meet together, I'll show you a people who love each other.

"Boys and girls should be taught the responsibility of spending.

"Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt is the greatest booster of club work in the United States. (Covered a heap o' territory.)

"Consolidated rural schools are the best places to educate boys and girls.

"Don't become self-satisfied. Keep your feet on the ground and press forward.

"Club work trains in economic efficiency, a thing the schools can not give.

"The civilization of the world rests on soil fertility. The duty of every land owner is to transmit to the next generation a soil increased in fertility.

"The significance of the club emblem, the four-leaf clover, with its four H's, meaning training of head, hand, heart and health, is pedagogically sound.

"Let your aim be 'Ad astra' (to the stars)."

"Club work is the greatest organization of boys and girls in the world."

Seed-Bed Counts A Lot.
Farmers are beginning to learn

that in order to get best results from use of fertilizers favorable seasons and the condition of the seed-bed are important factors. There are many things making possible the latter, among them being good tools, ample horse or tractor power, and skill in doing the work. No one has control over the seasons, but preparation of the seed bed has much to do with conservation of moisture.

Agriculture Is A Business.

"Farming, like banking or running a railroad, requires good business management. Not hard work alone, but careful planning is necessary to success. Brains are coming to be quite as essential as muscle on the modern farm." The old idea that the only qualification for a farmer was to be "strong in the arm and weak in the head" is passing—the sooner the better—and farming is being recognized as a business along with other business enterprises. Too often exploitation has made the farmer to feel the sting of "man's inhumanity to man make countless thousands mourn," but a new ideal in business, "Service above Self," seeks to apply the principles of the Golden Rule to all mankind in every relation of life.

Barred Rock Characteristics.

Every one in the poultry business should be familiar with the characteristics of the breed in which he is interested. Look next week for some of the characteristics of the Barred Rocks.

FUNDS ARE RAPIDLY BEING COLLECTED ON PLEDGES SUBSCRIBED

Rapid progress in the collection of funds recently subscribed by members of the Southern Presbyterian church in Texas for the support of their schools and colleges was evidenced by a report made to the campaign committee by Rev. J. S. Baird, D. D., financial secretary of the Board, at their meeting in Dallas on March 4th. The report showed that $380,000 has been paid on pledges totaling $1,370,000, according to the secretary.

Information given to the committee by heads of the various institutions represented showed an increased attendance for the present scholastic year, it was announced.

Interest Is Increasing.

Commenting on the accomplishments of the recent Educational movement, Dr. Baird said: "Not only has our recent campaign resulted in providing much needed aid for Presbyterian schools, but there is also manifest an increased interest in these institutions by those of our denomination in Texas, which will be of benefit to them long after the present money has been expended."

New subscriptions totaling $4,000 have been added to the amount pledged since the close of the campaign last July, the board was told.

COURTHOUSE FORCE TO CHALLENGE TEACHERS FOR GAME PUNKIN BALL

District Clerk J. W. Barron, County Attorney Oak McKenzie, Judge J. W. Hamilton, County Clerk A. S. McSwain and County Tax Collector J. M. Ferguson, et al, of the Brazos county court house force have filed a challenge in the Eagle against Superintendent Madison Hall, Principal C. M. Bethany, et al, for a game of "punkin" ball to be played at a date and place to be determined upon arbitration. Superintendent Hall has been notified of the challenge and declares that even when a boy he never took a "dare" and it was too late to start now. The week after district court has been suggested as tentative time and the place may be the court house lawn if the authorities or custodians will permit. It would be played some evening beginning about 5 o'clock.

Punkin ball, so called, is an excellent form of recreation for the business man. Instead of using a hard baseball that might incapacitate him for usefulness on the following day, through hard contact with some portion of his anatomy, the ball is of the indoor baseball type, and is extra large and rather soft. The bat used is of the small-boy, ten-cent variety. Then players are used on each side, and played just like regular baseball, except with two shortstops and the bases much closer together, because the ball cannot be knocked out but a short distance. Much fun and amusement can be derived from the game and it is fine recreation as well.

Besides, a collection may be taken up for the school or the court house force, for no doubt many spectators would be glad to give a dime to see some of the players run those bases, with a minimum amount of tumbles between third and home.

ECHOES OF GALVESTON CONVENTION AT MEET OF ROTARY CLUB TODAY

Following the singing of songs led by S. Moylan Bird and the consumption of the fine dinner set forth, the regular Wednesday noon luncheon of the Bryan Rotary Club was turned into a report from each member present at the Galveston convention of the 13th district. Those making reports were D. L. Wilson, Gabe Cazell, Gene Humbert, Dr. Jno. W. Black, H. H. Williamson, Kay Halsell and Mayor Tyler Haswell. It was the consensus of opinion that it was a great meeting and full of inspiration and worth-while things to help one catch the vision and the real interpretation of the meeting. One of the things stressed by nearly all the speakers was better attendance. Gabe Cazell made a personal plea with regard to the dangers of roller skating to the children and urged that a tract of land be bought, preferably an acre, near the city, cemented and made a skating rink for children where they are free from menace.

President D. L. Wilson appointed Todd White and E. E. Yeager to be Rotary members of the committee to secure the firemen's convention here in 1926, and Sam E. Eberstadt, Gene Humbert and Dr. Jno. W. Black as the committee to attend the Saturday night meeting of the Reliance community club.

Those present were: T. A. Adams, C. L. Beason, C. S. Beckwith, S. M. Bird, J. W. Black, Wilson Bradley, J. F. Casey, Gabe Cazell, Jess Conlee, W. F. Davis, R. M. Dansby, S. E. Eberstadt, E. B. Elliott, W. E. Farmer, H. C. Fulgham, C. E. Greiser, O. W. Goolsbee, F. L. Henderson, Chas. F. Hillier, Kay Halsell, Tyler Haswell, E. P. Humbert, H. N. June, J. H. Kraft, T. K. Lawrence, W. H.
